

Sustainable Regional Development Scientific Journal - SRDS J

Call for Papers

Sustainable Regional Development Scientific Journal (SRDS-J) is currently accepting manuscripts for publication in the next issue. SRDSJ publishes high-quality papers, written in English, in a wide range of areas, including regional science, economics, sustainability, geography, urban planning, international politics, etc. All papers will be peer-reviewed. SRDSJ produces two issues per year, December and June. Papers considered for publication in the SRDSJ Journal should be sent electronically to the address SRDSJ one month before the next issue and should be in accordance with the authors guidelines, as those specified in our website.

The benefits of publishing in the RSI include:

1. Fast publication times: Papers are instantly issued online upon acceptance
2. Excellent editorial standards
3. Free color in electronic version
4. Free online access
5. Fast and constructive peer review process
6. SRDSJ is registered in the following database: Bibliothèque Nationale de France, Paris.
7. All abstracts and full text are available free online to all main universities/institution, ensuring promotion to the widest possible audience

The deadline for submission in the December issue is 30th of October

The deadline for submission in the June issue is 30th of April

Submission guidelines are available in the webpage:

www.srdsjournal.eu

Papers shall be submitted by e-mail (in word and pdf formats) to the following address:

info@srdsjournal.eu publisher@srdsjournal.eu